

Hitting The Sport Trail With Geo. E. Firstbrook

If the honest truly stuff of Connie Lewis and Fritzle Musante comes up to the 100 proof mark Bridgeport fight fans can expect a feast of big things between now and Labor Day.

In spare moments between the box office delirium of last Monday evening and current events of the world, Cennie and Fritzie are already framing up the program for the next gain

Sure it's going to be a hummer, as usual.

Red Allen vs. Johnny Dundee in the star bout is being talked about. The same Red Allen who was embarrassed to a 23rd degree tilt the other night when Announcer Jack McGee retused him an introduction to the crowd.

Well, he's the guy they are figuring to draw the ducats.

NO CLASH WITH ELKS' BALL. But the official announcement is coming. Fifty per cent of it is all ready. The show will not be held on Monday night, March 28, as talked of, because that is Easter Monday night, the date of the Elks' charity ball, but the date will probably be advanced to Tuesday or Thursday night of the same week.

That'll make no difference if Allen and Dundee is the card. It's a red letter head liner.

Now getting down to the bigger things on the menu. For the first open-air show in the Arena how would Louis Bogash and Soldier Bartfield look as program toppers. That's the idea.

Then, getting down to around Decoration Day or before June 6. Louis Bogash again, but this time with Johnny Britton world's welter champ for his opponent.

Some feast, eh, Bo?

STANLEY COVELESKIE HAD HARD ROAD. Can't always judge a pitcher by his first year in the bushes, is the opinion of Gene McCann. Gene is pretty nearly correct when he recalls the experiences of Stanley Coveleskie who spent eight years in the minors before he became a glittering star for the world champion Cleveland team.

Coveleskie began his diamond career with Shamokin in 1908; the following five years he performed with Lancaster and Atlantic City in the Tri-State League; in 1913 he was with the Athletics, pitching in five games, then he went to Spokane for two seasons; from Spokane he joined the Cleve-land club in 1916 and has been there since.

WORLD SERIES MAINSTAY.

"Covey's" work in the recent world's series was altogether brilliant, He started the first game for the Indians in Brooklyn and turned in a 3 to 1 victory, pitching against Marquard, Mamaux and Cadore. He came back in the fourth game against the same pitchers, with Jeff Pfeffer to boot, and the Indiags romped away with the victory, 5 to 1. In the seventh game he pitched shutout ball, downing the Robins 3 to 0. It was this victory that gave him entree to the select set of pitchers who have won three games in a single world's series. Eight pitchers now hold this distinction, though only half of this number, among whom Coveleskie ranks, have turned in three victories against no defeats. ries against no defeats.

RICKARD HAS OWN WAY NOW.

RICKARD HAS OWN WAY NOW.

Tex Rickard has decided to paddle his own cance in the staging of the Georges Carpentier-Jack Dempsey muss. Perhaps it is just as well after all. Billy Brady and Cochran are two big promoters and no doubt know the game, but the days of Billp Brady and Cochran promoting boxing championships are long gone by. They seem to have lacked the fine hand of a Rickard. Big Tex is a natural born promoter. He takes to the game like a duck to the water and with him the big man behind the gun in the coming mill there seems to be little doubt that he will put over just as successful and the page in his former world heavywight championship undertak. a mill as he has in his former world heavyweight championship undertak-

"Coblenz—Announcement that Jack Dempsey during his coming visit to Europe would box under the auspices of the American Legion post at Parls for the benefit of stranded American ex-soldiers was received with mixed contribution which the Amaroc News, the official army newspaper, prints prominently, suggests that, in view of Dempsey's war record, the American Legion post should invite Grover C. Bergdoll, champion draft evader, to appear simultaneously and lecture on 'My Life in Active Service.' Life in Active Service.'
"Quinn who himself was a box-

Newark Back On Ball Map

Newark—Newark today is back on the baseball map as a result of the purchase of the Akron franchise by Dave Driscoll and Roy Mack, son of Connia Mack. The purchase price is reported at $25,000.

According to the plans of Driscoil and Mack they intend to revive interest in the national game on a big scale. They are backed by many in-fluential citizens of that thriving city and feel that Newark can well afford to support a club. They have been working steadily to get the franchise and will now start in and make arrangements to put a first class club in their city.

Admits Bridgeport Boxer Is Good Fighter, But Thinks He's Better - Has Visions of Chance With Louis Bogash

By GEORGE E. FIRSTBROOK.

By GEORGE E. FIRSTBROOK.

To watch Benny Weafer in action yesterday at the Acorn A. C. the most consistent of Steady Steadman's admirrers would say that the Bridgeport boy will have to go the full limit of his capacity to beat the Norwalk boy in their bout Monday night at the Columbia A. C. smoker.

To our eyes Weafer is all there as a fast boxer. Of course, we did not see any of his kayo specialties in his workout with Leo Johnson, the dusky hued boy who is to meet Young Luby. (Weafer, by the way, picks Johnson to lick Luby.)

Weafer is all action. He uncorked a sounding wallop against Johnson several times. Johnson, who is a clever lad, was unable to reach him in long range practice.

The Norwalk boxer is no bragger by any means, but like all other boxers he's going into the bout next Monday night with the intention of winning. He balked a bit on talking, but he said this much:

STEADMAN SLOW, WEAFER SAYS.

with the intention of winning. He balked a bit on talking, but he said this much:

STEADMAN SLOW, WEAFER SAYS.

"Steadman is a good and tough boy, but I think he is too slow. I expect to outpoint him and something better, if he bumps into mp kayo. He's got a good left and shift, but when he shifts with me he's going to get licked."

In addition to his training work here Weafer is cutting laily conditioning licks with Jack Dempsey, handler of Bat Gunz, when the latter was in his haloyon days. Weafer did not hesitate to pay a tribute to Kunz's ability as a boxer by aying he would be a champer if he stuck to the game.

HAS VISIONS OF BOGASH BOUT

After the Steadman bout Weafer is going on the trail of Dave Palitz of Hartford and Louis Bogash for bouts. Weafer, although admitting that Bogash is a wonderful fighter, is confident he can beat the Bridgeport battler.

On Saturday night, March 12, Weafer is carded to box Kayo Johnny Smith of Philadelphia at the Commonwealth Club, New York, in the semi final. In the stellar bout Gunboat Smith and Al Roberts are carded to clash.
